ACTIVITIES

Excitement and anticipation abounded as the 1982 Homecoming King and Queen candidates lined up on the field during half time of the Bakersfield High game on October 22.

Although this was the climax of the ceremonies, preparation began long before. Activity Director Jerry Robinson, along with seniors Sandy Sousa, Sophie Level, and Cathy Wright, started making plans a month earlier.

Alumni cheerleaders from as far back as 1979 cheered at the Homecoming rally earlier that day and during the first half of the varsity football game.

The committee of four organized black, gold, and white balloons filled with helium to be released at half time. They also provided roses for all of the varsity football players and cheerleaders to present to their mothers before the game.

Seniors Pati Stanfill and Eddie Sanchez were crowned King and Queen. Runners-up were Katie Peterson, Jim Hinsely, Keith Jackson, Kim Faris, Annette Otten, and Mark Goehring. Each of the candidates for Queen received a bracelet and roses. The King candidates were presented with engraved key chains.

Following the game, there was an ASB-sponsored dance.

AT 8:30 am Saturday morning November 8, 1982, students from 24 public and private high schools gathered at West High for the third annual Academic Decathlon.

This was Foothill's second year of participation in the competition. Team members had met before school to prepare for the Decathlon months before the competition. For senior Louis Stull, who placed third in the area of science, the preparation paid off.

Other team members included Jon Serna, Jeff Mayo, Stacy Johnson, and Cathy Wright. Regina Salua, Martin Jones, David Kennedy, and Monique Lomas also took part in the competition. Librarian Julie Zisk coached the team and helped them prepare for the competition.

Team members were selected on the grounds of their Grade Point Averages. Each school entered three students in the A, B, and C categories: Honor, Scholastic, and Varsity.

The Decathlon required students to answer questions in six basic areas: English and Literature, Fine Arts, Physical and Biological sciences, Social Science, Mathematics and Economics. The scholars were also required to demonstrate skills in speech and interview techniques and essay writing.

Drama kept busy during the 1982-83 school year. The group presented three Children's Theater plays, two A.S.B. plays, and a scene at the annual Shakespeare Festival.

The department performed "Joan of Arc" for the Shakespeare Festival held at Foothill during the fall. The actors and actresses then traveled to Chapman College to perform in another Shakespeare Festival, where senior David Kennedy received an Outstanding Performance award for his presentation.

Students from various drama classes studied to put on three Children's Theater performances. The first performance included the plays "The King of the Ice Cream Mountain" and "The King Who Loved Lollipops." The second Children's Theater was highlighted by performances of "The Invention" and "The Toby Show." A third presentation introduced "The Near-Sighted Knight and the Far-Sighted Dragon."

"The Invention," "The Toby Show," and "Dirty Work at Crossroads," were all performed at the Northeast Library. This is the first year that Foothill drama students have performed at the library.

Student body plays were presented twice during the year on Friday and Saturday nights. The first A.S.B. play was presented during the fall. It starred three seniors as convicts in "My Three Angels." The spring A.S.B. play was a Neil Simon comedy about an Olympic swimmer, titled "The Star-Spangled Girl."

Competition

among the four classes became a main spirit promoter at this year's rallies. These competitions included tricycle races, passing apples from chin to chin, and costume races.

Two to six students from each of the classes participated in these events. Losing class presidents were sometimes rewarded with whipped cream pies or water balloons, while at other rallies the losing contestents received the same reward.

Spirit Stick competition was another major spirit promoter. Sophomores showed more spirit this year by winning this competition several times, with freshman spirit increasing as the year progressed, shown by the Freshman Class winning the competition at the Homecoming Rally.

Juniors also won the Spirit Stick at several rallies, while senior spirit seemed to fail slightly, with few seniors present to participate. Different members of the staff where chosen to judge the spirit event.

Memories Forever

was the theme for the Winter Formal held December 4th at Mt. Vernon Veteran's Hall. Whether or not those memories were good or bad would be up to the 65 couples who attended.

The evening began at 8:00, with music played by Stage Three Productions. Food was catered from Caesar's Delicatessen, cookies by Gallands and punch from Larson's Dairyland. Pictures taken by Brunels were also available to those who attended.

As couples arrived, they were given ballots to vote for Royalty. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of Their Majesties, the King and Queen, and the Royal Court. Senior Eric Slagle was voted King, while senior Kim Kiger was crowned Queen. Their court consisted of Junior Prince Larry Aspeitia and Princess Ida Franco, Sophomore Prince Johnny Nessmith and Princess Stacy Canfield and Freshmen Prince Mike Matheny and Princess Adrienne Navarrette.

The Princesses received engraved, heart-shaped key chains, with the Queen receiving a crown along with an engraved key chain. The Princes also received engraved key chains. In addition to his key chain, the King received a crown.

The Spear and Shield Club was responsible for organizing the Formal, and Finance Secretary Frieda Driskill was responsible for selling the bids.

Black History Week, put on by the Afro-American Association, started off with student presentations in the morning detailing the lives of famous black people. Each day a famous black person was introduced on the intercom system by one of five students: Dale Jennings, John Grandson, Steven Ford, Caroline Dyles, and Tishika Viewins. They talked about black leaders such as Shirley Chisholm, the first black woman to serve in the United States Congress, and Robert Small, the black Captain of the Confederate steamboat, the Planter, during the Civil War.

Club members put on an assembly for the student body, which included guest speakers, dances, and speeches. Later that night they performed for the public in the Lecture Center.

A very exciting moment began at 1 p.m. on February 17, 1983, in the lecture center at FHS.

Senior Aaron Reynolds and junior Julie Anson were united in a mock "marriage ceremony," held by the ROP photograhy class in order to obtain experience in taking group shots and formal affair pictures. Senior Clarence Oats performed the ceremony and Principal Dr. Jordon Kanikkeberg gave away the bride.

"The goal of vocational training is to teach students to fit into real working situations," said ROP photography instructor Charles Garcia. His 21 students learned quickly that "fitting in" meant finding the best way to shoot a picture of the wedding without disturbing the ceremony.

Senior Toni Cross was the wedding coordinator, and Senior Derrick Hooper was assistant coordinator.

A reception was held afterward for the bridal party and the parents who attended the ceremony. The photo class even went to the trouble to print up invitations and distribute them to the students on campus.

The wedding was also filmed by local tv stations and aired on local news.

The annual Famosa March Meets, run on March 5, 6, and 7th, 1983, were held a week late this year because of rain.

The Top Fuel race winner was Danny Dannel, who entered the 25th Annual Coors Bakersfield Fuel and Gas Championships as an unknown, but, upon winning, was known to all. He won the race with a 5.66 clocking at 247.25 mph to beat three-time world champion Shirley Muldowney.

In the Funny Car Competition, Mike Dunn drove the Hawaiian Punch car to the championship. Dave Haga won the Top Alcohol Championship. Rob Smith won the Comp. Title and Danny Brown won the Super Street.

Freshman Becky Morger, who has attended the Meets for the past seven years, says, "The crowds were pretty rowdy this year, but as usual the March Meets were a blast."

Art sculpture is an art technique that most students in art teacher Roberta Rudnick's classes participated in. Using milk cartons as molds, each student created figures such as E.T., FHS, and cartoon characters like Snoopy and Ziggy from large blocks of plaster. They used Xacto carving knives and regular table knives to carve and create their masterpieces.

The ASB (Associated Student Body) is the student organization that helps the students bring their point of view to the administration.

The student council was led by David Kennedy, new to student government, who served as ASB President for the 1982-83 school year. Other council members were Vice President Samantha Nerove, Secretary Linda Medina, Treasurer Stacy Anson, Commissioner of Athletics Eric Slagle, Commissioner of Health and Safety Kirsten Jacobson, Commissioner of Publicity Sophie Level, Helen of Troy Sandy Sousa, and the class officers of each class.

Various activities of the student council included student exchanges with Highland and Garces Highs. This gave the student council a chance to see how other schools run their ASB.

Teen-City Government day was held on November 19, 1982, when the student council officers from each of the eight high schools gathered to run the city for one day. This gave the students a chance to understand how the city council runs the city of Bakersfield.

"I met a lot of people, and most of all I learned a lot about the city of Bakersfield, and how the city council operated," commented senior Kirsten Jacobson, who held the position of Civic Auditorium Manager.

To close out the year, the student council held their annual pizza party, where all received their awards.

CLASSES

Outstanding Senior

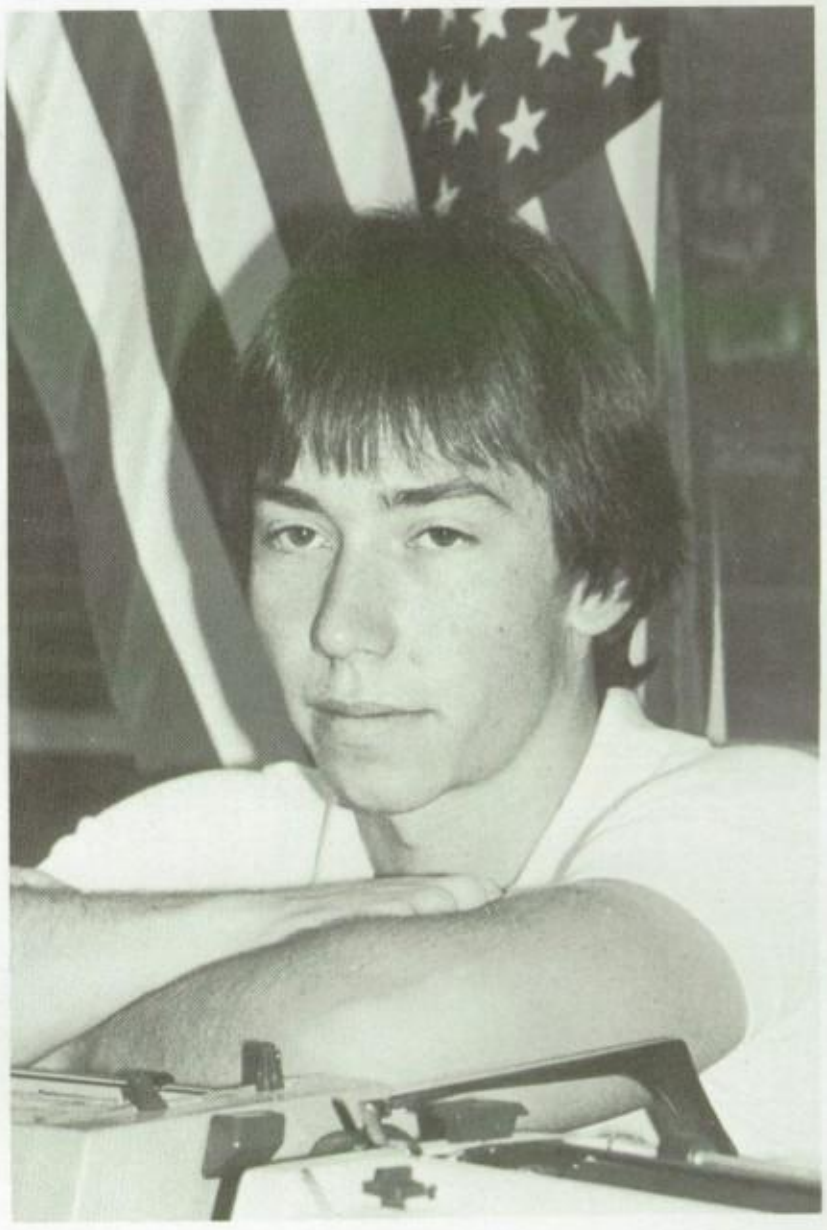
Sandy Sousa capped her years of leadership at FHS by serving as Helen of Troy, head cheerleader and the spirit leader of Foothill's student body. Sandy was one of the first cheerleaders ever to log four years on Foothill cheering squads, where she was elected captain of the JV Squad in her third year.

A natural leader, Sandy was elected class vice president in her sophomore and junior years and was selected as an All-American Pom-pon Girl at a rigorous cheerleading camp conducted during her sophomore summer. After traveling to Girls State in her junior year, she also won the Creative and Performing Arts award in the Bakersfield Junior Miss program.

During her four years on the tennis team Sandy was an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and in her senior year was presented with the Good Citizen award from the D.A.R. and earned the Glendon Rogers Award for all around leadership from the Optimist Club.

Committed to helping others, Sandy coached gymnastics for the Special Olympics every year and helped train budding cheerleaders as a spirit advisor to fifth and sixth graders during her senior year.

Active in the Spear and Shield, Mat Maids and Block F service clubs every year, Sandy also traveled to Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, as a Freedoms Foundation Scholar during her junior year. Sandy completed her years of involvement at Foothill in the role of Section Editor of the school annual, achieving one of the highest advertising sales totals in the history of the student publication.



The voice of Outstanding Senior David Kennedy was a familiar sound each morning as our Associated Student Body President read the morning announcements in his inimitable style, just one of his many dramatic talents.

One of a long line of premier actors produced by FHS drama coach Peg Pauly, David earned Outstanding Performance honors at Foothill's prestigious Shakespeare Festival in both his junior and senior years, won the Acting Award at the Fresno State University Drama Competion during his junior year and attained the Chapman College Acting Award in his final year.

David's grades qualified him as a member of the California Scholarship Federation each year at FHS, and, as a member of the Math Club, he attained the highest score in the Mathematical Association of America tests at Foothill in his junior year.

Serving as Vice President of both the Math and Drama clubs, David was presented with the Optimist Club Award for Leadership, and his drama talents earned him a Bank of America Plaque for Fine Arts.

Rounding out a varied career, David swam for Foothill all four years, selected as the Most Improved Swimmer in his sophomore year and Most Inspirational as a junior.

Senior Class

Class officers, like any other group, need to work together as a unit. This year's Senior Class officers worked together as a team to plan the Senior Class Dance. They then went on to accomplish Grad Night at Disneyland, the final hurrah of the Class of '83.

Class officers were President Katie Peterson, who was class president all four years; Vice President Anthony Olivieri; Annette Otten, who has been Class Treasurer for two years; and Sherri Minetti, who has been Class Secretary for three years.

Senior government teacher Harry Love required his students to earn 100 points by participating in what he called a "community action project." He offered many ways for a student to meet the requirement.

Students had a choice to work for two hours at any campaign office during the political elections held in November, or they could sit in on a court trial or government meeting.

Another way was to invite influential people to speak in class, or to participate in a community project.

Students invited speakers such as Mayor Mary Kay Shell and Assemblyman Don Rodgers. They did such things as stuff envelopes, look up addresses and phone numbers, make telephone calls to the citizens on election day, and distributed brochures on doorsteps.

One student, Kirsten Jacobson, who stuffed potholders into envelopes for two hours, said that she, "never realized how much work went into campaigning."

The group, Something Special, is purely a Foothill product. Composed of three FHS seniors and two grads, the band featured Les Besser ('81) on lead guitar, senior Mark Goehring on drums, senior Rick Stevens on bass guitar, senior Frank Graham on rhythm guitar, and Cindy Graham ('79) as the lead vocalist. And let's not forget their little "Something Special" sidekick, Crystal Graham.

Ranging in age from 17 to 21, Something Special has been playing together since October, 1980. The group has performed for numerous parties, dances, and wedding receptions, with outstanding acceptance from young and middle-aged audiences in and around Bakersfield.

The band hosted a Fall Festival Dance held at the Kern County Fairgrounds on November 20, 1982.

"We have put everything we've got into this band for the past two years," commented bass guitarist Rick Stevens. "We have worked really hard for what we have got."

BAS, Best at Spirit, is a club with a single qualification - you must be a senior. The club originated in 1979 but didn't blossom until 1981, when Imperial Wizard Dan Sousa and companions, Master of Acts Mike Grogan and Yoda Wizard Scott Fritz, got the club rolling. They put on a rock concert November 15, 1981 and then followed up with a dance in the spring.

Following their tradition, the Class of '83 started out the year with a few Friday morning meetings at which they planned stunts for the rallies to promote senior spirit.

In addition to promoting spirit, BAS also set plans for a Sadie Hawkins dance in March.

Some FHS students interested in a career in the medical field, more specifically as a paramedic, were able to train with the professional ambulance services in Bakersfield.

Randy Pigg, a senior, had the experience of riding in an ambulance, assisting the Emergency Medical Technicians and the paramedics in treating patients. On school nights he worked from 5-10 p.m. and on weekends from 5-11 p.m.

For one year Randy rode with Halls Ambulance, and he is currently working at Golden Empire. When Randy was asked why he chose this job he replied, "I like it, it's rewarding and a challenge. Especially if you want to go into this career, as I do."

Having wheels is very important in the life of a senior. Transportation of your own is a necessary part of today's life.

Because of the high prices of gas, students are driving smaller, more compact cars that get better gas mileage.

Around campus are seen a vast assortment of cars, among which Celicas, trucks, Hondas, and Toyotas seem to be the most popular.

Trucks and other four-wheel drive vehicles are very popular this year, while low-slung low-riders remain in style.

Senior Tracy Mayne said, "Before I got my own car I didn't always have transportation for the places I wanted to go. Now I just drive myself. Having my own car is really helpful."

Every mother remembers when her son or daughter was a baby. There are many fond memories of the cute and cuddly little infant.

But everyone had to grow up someday, and now these cute little tots are full grown seniors, ready to go out on their own very soon.

Class of '84 Officers were President Ida Franco, Vice President Pam Ward, Secretary Teresa Hale, and Treasurer Michelle Arvizu.

Ida Franco has been the President of the Class of '84 for three years. "I love being President," said Ida, "and I hope to be Class President again next year."

Pam Ward is also a third-year veteran of student council. "I enjoy being Vice President," said Pam. And she, like Ida, hopes to hold the same office next year.

This was Teresa Hale's first year as Class Secretary. "I am interested in student council," said Teresa. "I have had a good year being Secretary, and would look forward to participating in it again next year."

Like Teresa, this is Michelle Arvizu's first year as Treasurer. "We, as Junior Class Officers, have done our best to make the Junior Class #1," said Michelle.

Teresa Hale and the officers agreed that the dance they sponsored September 24, 1982, was a success. "We made $350.85, said Teresa."

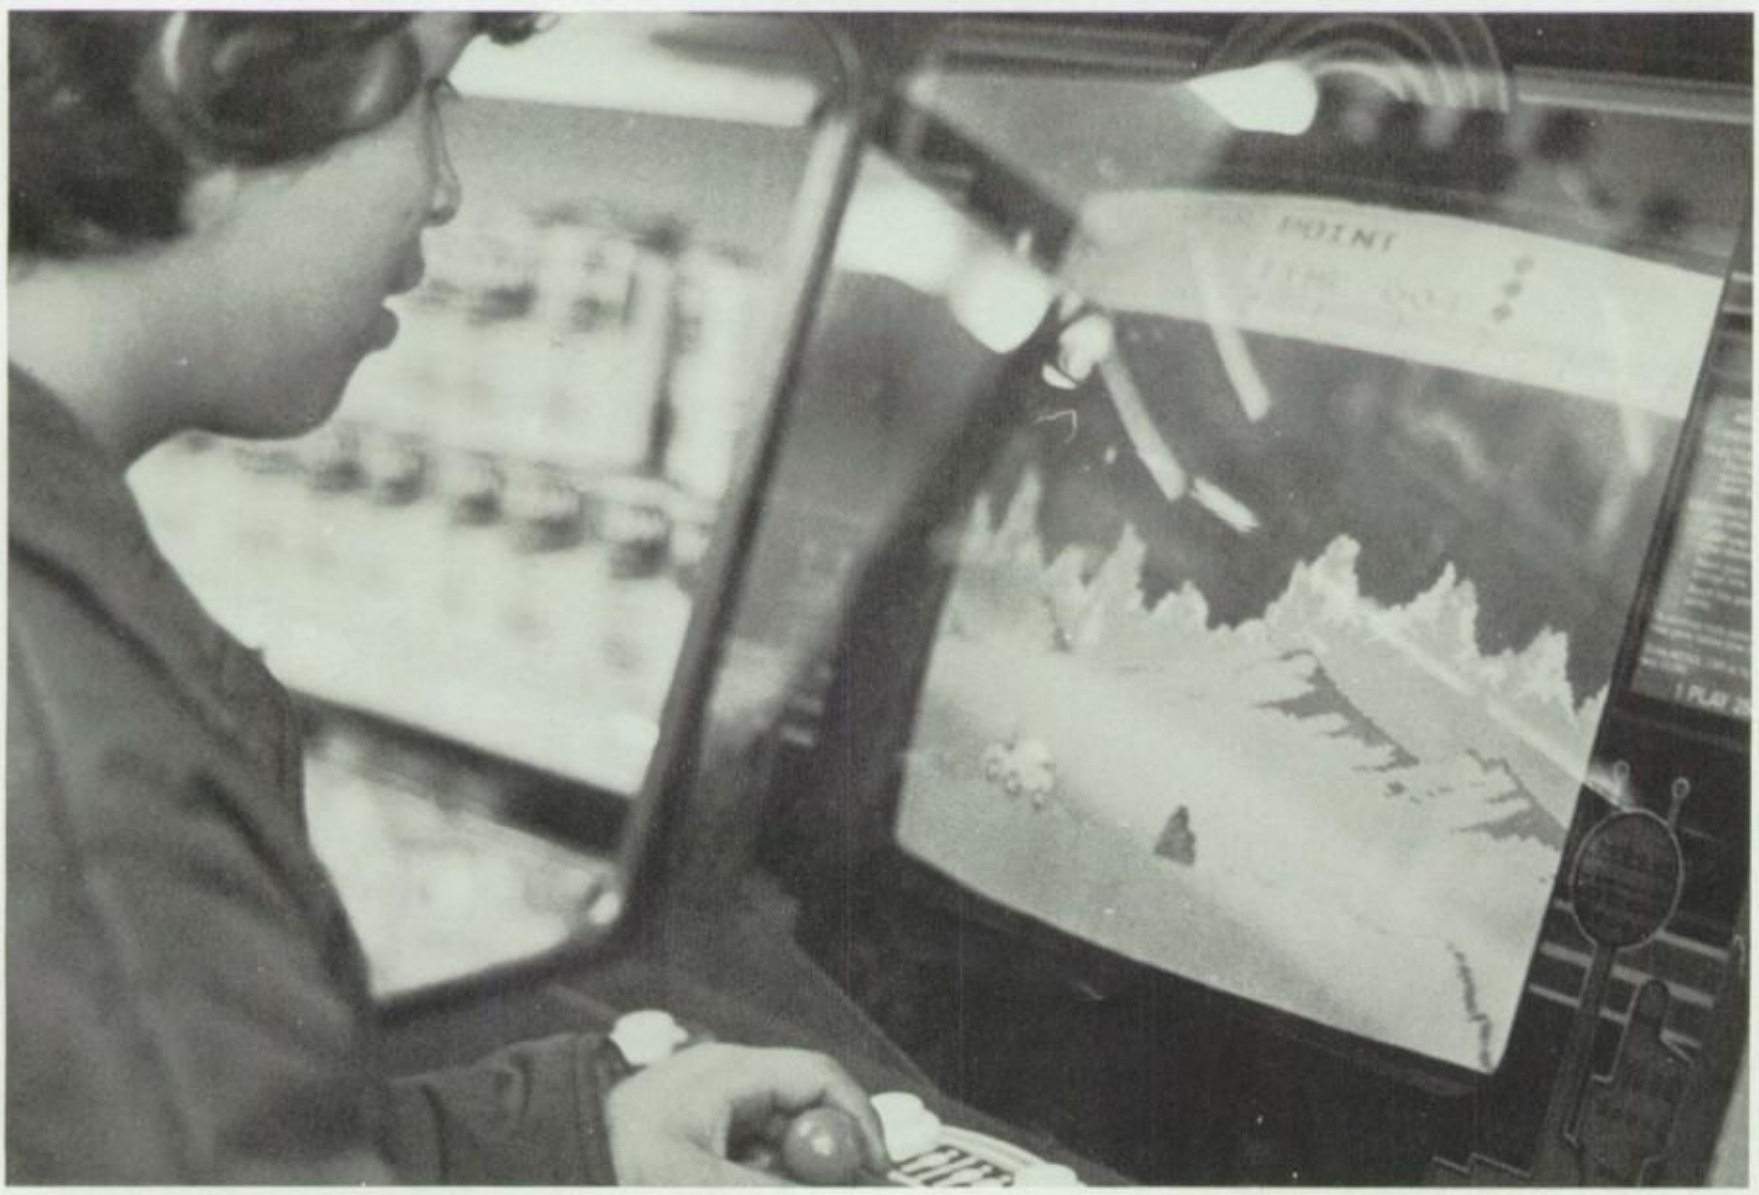
The sounds of quarters dropping into slots, and the buzzes and rings that soon follow, can be heard in many local supermarkets, mini marts, and arcades. These are the sounds of the latest craze . . . video games.

Throughout the year, FHS juniors could be found developing their video game skills while playing such popular games as Pac-Man, Demon Attack, Space Invaders, and Tron.

Tron was a much-publicized game, created by Walt Disney Productions as a promotion for its movie titled "Tron".

But Pac-Man was the most popular game. Pac-Man fans could be seen wearing their Pac-Man tee-shirts, and Pac-Man Van tennis shoes, licking Pac-Man ice creams and watching the Saturday morning Pac-Man cartoons.



A regular customer at a popular arcade was junior Mike Lara.

While some girls only dream about being on the cover of magazines, Barbie Keith, a junior at FHS, is well on her way to becoming a well-known model.

Barbie was encouraged at age 12 by her mother to take a charm class at the Academy of Charm, now called Mannikin Manor. When Barbie was 14 years old, she appeared on the Ted Fritts television show as a model. She has modeled in fashion shows sponsored by Hair Design, a local beauty salon, and done several promotional jobs.

Barbie would like to be in commercials but can not until she is 18 years old. Her future plans are to go to New York and make a name for herself.

Like many other models, Barbie Keith had a professional photographer from Sacramento produce photos like these for her portfolio.

Like, Oh My God, it's the Valley Girl! Students have seen many fashion fads come and go. Ever since the popular song "Valley Girl," by Frank Zappa, which was turned into a hit by his daughter, singer Moon Unit Zappa, girls everywhere have been changing their mode of dress and style of language.

The Valley Girl wardrobe usually consists of stylish sweatshirt and mini-skirt combos. An over-abundance of shoes (a pair to go with every outfit) can usually be spotted in a Valley Girl's closet. Accessories such as large bracelets, earrings and colorful tights accompany this style of dress.

Valley Girls have developed a style of language all their own. Valley girl lingo originated in the San Fernando Valley in the Los Angeles area. After the Valley Girl song was released, the expressions became popular state-wide. Phrases such as "I'm sure", "Like, oh my God" and "Totally" are commonly used.

Junior Barb Orr can usually be seen wearing the 'Val Gal" decore. When asked how long she believed this fashion fad will last, she replied, "It's like, I don't know!"

After many years of planning and preparation, the FHS weight room was finally completed.

Fund-raising for the new addition was led by coach Ned Permenter and activities director Jerrold Robinson. Permenter organized the first FHS Jogathon in February, 1979, that raised $20,000. The money was used to start the construction of the room. The second FHS Jogathon was held in March, 1981, with its profits to purchase weights and other accessories.

FHS students spent many hours of painting, cleaning, and preparing for Foothill's long-awaited weight room. The room was finally completed in the Fall of 1982.

Officers for the class of 1985 tried an unusual fundraiser. The four officers, President Shelly Helton, Vice President Connie Gallaher, Secretary Lori Tyner, and Treasurer Tina Garcia, all helped by baking goods for a bake sale at their Class of '85 dance held October 1.

The girls were also involved in selling Christmas trees to raise money for our athletic program. They helped by selling trees individually and working on the lot where the trees were sold.

Their spirit came out when the officers made signs for each rally to help win the rally stick, which was captured by the sophomores many times.

Four sophomores were found grooming their animals and cleaning out their stalls at the 1982 Kern County Fair. Pat Welch entered her lambs, horses, and rabbits. Her French Lop rabbit took second place, while her 109 pound lamb received 2nd group, 3rd place. She later sold her lamb for $2.00 a pound.

"The prices definitely do not compare to last year's prices," commented Welch, "and I feel they are going to decrease in the upcoming years."

Also showing market lambs under Mugunden 4-H were Stacy Gillies, Mireille Bryson, and Kenny Dugan. Their lambs were placed in 2nd group, selling at an average of $2.00 a pound up to $3.50.

Kenny and Pat also showed their horses, receiving 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place ribbons.

"Considering this was my horse's first year of showing, she did very well," said Welch, "and I feel she will compete very highly in her next shows."

A lack of money forced the Kern High School District for the first time to charge "Pay to Play" to high school athletes.

The new law, which went into effect in September, was passed by the Board of Trustees in order to maintain an athletic program that was about to bench some teams in order to save others.

The athletes pay the fees, $25.00 per sport, to the Finance Office, then turn in their receipt to the coach before the first game.

Money received from the Pay-To-Play plan was used to pay coaches salaries and athletic utilities and keep facilities in proper maintenance, according to Athletic Director Jerrold Robinson.

"This year not as many athletes went out as last because of the money problems," commented Frosh-Soph coach John Minear. "And it isn't fair for the ones who want to go out and can't."

"It's amazing we even have Foothill sports," commented JV football player Todd Mendiburu.

Everyone has a special talent for something. Sophomore Stacy Gillies has one such talent which also happens to be her favorite hobbie, barrel racing.

Stacy has been riding since she was 10 years old. She rides her own horse, Sinner. At the Gymkhana Barrel Racing Ranch, Stacy competes in events such as barrel racing, pole riding, and other events.

Competition is divided according to age groups. At the end of the season, awards are given to the top five riders in each age group. "I ride for pleasure," commented Gillies, "as well as for the competition."

It takes skill, coordination and patience to be a good dancer. Sophomore Monica Stauffer has these skills and has been dancing for two years, taking classes at Dance Steps Studio.

There are three specific dances she does in her dance classes: jazz, tap, and Hawaiian dances. She prefers Hawaiian dances to the others because the Hawaiian creation is slow and tells stories.

When asked about her future in dance, she said, "I have no goal in dance. I dance because I enjoy it."

Some people like to help others in the community. One such person is sophomore Judy White, who donates her time as a volunteer candy striper at Mercy Hospital two days a week.

Volunteers do jobs at the hospital wherever they are needed. They generally deliver flowers to people, take various specimens to the lab, get magazines for patients, and even feed and visit the patients.

But don't underestimate them. Candy stripers are vital to the hospital. The floors would not run as smoothly without them. Nurses would not be able to donate as much time to the patient without candy stripers to perform small, but necessary jobs.

Judy started her volunteer work in September. When asked why she joined, she replied, "I like to work with people and it gives me a chance to see what nurses do." She hopes to become a registered nurse in the future.

The Freshman Class had no lack of candidates when election time came in mid October.

According to Activity Director Jerry Robinson, there were at least three candidates for every office.

Officers were President Mike Pittman and Vice President Mike Hughes. Becky Morger was the class Secretary and Christy Ballard was Treasurer.

The Freshman class sponsored a dance on January 7 after a basketball game against West High.

Pittman stated, "The hardest part about being an officer was that at the beginning of the year I was not sure what was going on or who the advisors were."

Advisors for the Freshman Class were English teachers Kathy Sopko and Elaine Conley.

Minis, muscle shirts, polka dots, stripes, and pedal pushers all entered Foothill with the Class of '86.

Punk Rock and New Wave fashions that were almost nonexistent during the '81-82 school year seemed to stumble into popularity with the freshmen class. It was not uncommon to see combinations of flourescent pink and black striped or polka-dot minis in the halls of FHS.

The new fashions did not only include clothes, but also hair styles such as bilevels, cropped tops, and dyed streaks.

During the year, punk groups with names like the B-52's, Ooingo Booingo, Pretenders, and Psychodelic Furs hit the charts with such titles as "Party Gone Out of Bounds," "Gray Matter", "Back on the Chain Gang" and "Love My Way."

Some freshmen went as far as dying their hair red and dressing in a punk fashion for football games and dances.

Varsity cheerleader Destiny Szczucki said, "It was hard to pick. The Rally Girls cheer at the rallies and promote freshman spirit, and it's an important job."

Janet began practicing with the shot only weeks before the competition.

Some Football runners run Trojan Field, and others compete at Hark Park, but freshman Janet Brown flew to Memphis, Tennessee, to compete in the Amateur Athletics Union National Junior Olympics on August 5, 1982.

Janet competed in the Heptathalon, a competition involving three running events and four field events. Brown competed in the shot put, long jump, high jump, javelin, 100 meter hurdles, 880 run, and 220 run.

Two weeks before the track meet was the first time she had ever picked up the javelin or even tried to jump the hurdles, and those were her best events.

The toughest event for her was the high jump. "It was very hard for me to do the high jump because I'm only 5′1″, and my legs aren't very long."

The 14-year-old started her training at Fairfax Junior High School, under the instruction of Tony Padilla, Fairfax eighth grade teacher. They went out and practiced for hours. Padilla worked very hard with Janet and plans to keep on working with her for the next Junior Olympics, according to Janet.

The 105 pounder was in Memphis for five days, competing against kids from all over the United States. On August 10, Janet was awarded seventh place overall.

The freshman plans to keep on working on her running and hopes to go back to the A.A.U. Junior Olympics next summer and perhaps even make it to the World Olympics.

Lunch is the time for many freshmen to gather around with friends to share a snack and a few laughs. For others, lunch means waiting in long lines in the cafeteria for a hot lunch, and then having to eat it in a rush.

The cafeteria offers a different meal everyday. Students with lunch card receive free lunch; without a card, lunch runs $1.25, 25¢ more than last year.

The cafeteria also offers a salad bar. A salad can be purchased with a lunch ticket; without one the salad costs $1.00.

The snack bar has a variety of snacks - drinks, potato chips, cookies and other snacks are available for those students who would rather eat a snack instead of a full meal.

Exciting hobbies are a must for some people, and freshman Christine Kohn is one of them. She enjoys ice skating, which she has been doing for seven years. Christine travels two hours twice a week to Burbank, where she practices this beautiful sport.

Kohn was ten years old when she last participated in a competition. The competitions are complicated events, and judges often rate skaters on how well the skater interpretes the music and entertains the audience, as well as her skill as a skater.

Some young skaters go on to perform with the Ice Capades and on television specials. Christine hopes to be one of them some day.

"The Trojans played well once we were over injuries and ineligibility," commented coach Permenter.

The outlook for the team was good at the beginning of the season, but they never seemed to reach their full potential. Injuries were a main factor when it came to playing against the number one and two teams in the valley. Aside from the fact that there were many players injured and ineligible, the Trojans still finished third in the South Yosemite League.

"We were balanced when it came to running and passing attacks," Permenter said. He also noted that the "defense and kicking game were above average."

Awards, all chosen by the players, were presented December 13. Eric Slagle received Most Valuable, Ken Houston received Most Outstanding and Most Inspirational went to Johnny Mathews. Inother presentations, Shawn Gannon was picked Best Non-Senior Lineman and Best Non-Senior Back was Chris Chagoya. The Non-Starter Who Best Exemplifies Trojan Spirit went to Jim Porter and Team Captains were Russell Duke and Wayne Mitchell.

Most Improved went to Matt Forry and the highest grade point average was earned by Jeff Mayo. The McLemore Award, given to the football player who, in the opinion of the coaches, exemplifies Trojan Spirit in everything he does on and off campus, was presented to Ed Finkle.

Matt Forry was selected All-City First Team, and Ken Houston, Wayne Mitchell, Russell Duke, Ed Finkle, Garey Scott and Eric Slagle were chosen for Second Team.

Frosh-soph football started the year with the majority of the players never having been on a football field, according to coach John Minear. But the coach feels they improved greatly as the season progressed.

The overall record for the squad was 0-9, and their SYL record was 0-7. Key games were against North and East High schools, according to Minear.

Most Valuable players were Jason Williams (tackle), Roddy Rizo (guard), Mike Hughes (tailback), and Terry Finwick (double back).

Minear feels the team's strength was its attitude, its weakness was experience. Players awards were given to Mike Hughes - Most Outstanding, Roddy Rizo - Best Offensive player, Martin Ramero - Best Defensive, Brian Carr - Most Improved. Team captains were Terry Finwick and Lee Coontz.

According to Coach Ted Oliver, "We had the talent to be a more competitive team than we were. We had a team with one of our best individual runners, Larry Bayless, returning and a top group of six junior runners to bolster him. Most of the same group will be returning next year."

Team captain was Larry Bayless, who finished the season as number three on the Foothill High All-Time Runner list. Bayless also receieved the Champion plaque, which is given to the runner who defeats everyone in FHS interclass racing. Jose Lugo received Most Inspirational.

"It was a very frustrating year all around," she said. "I am looking forward to strength coming next year. The girls got along well and were very coachable. Every girl out there matured as a player this year."

The girls' varsity Softball was considered a rookie team, according to coach Bob Ezell. Most of the players were new, inexperienced and underclassmen. This, along with the rain at the beginning of the season, hampered the team's performance.

Coach Ezell commented, "we will be waiting for next season to roll in because the team will then have the necessary experience."

Senior Desiree Lomas was the team's key pitcher. Her sister, Monique Lomas, played catcher, and the both of them working together strengthened the team, according to Ezell.

"This team works hard" commented Edmondson," and has the ability to come from behind and win."

The Frosh/Soph baseball team started the season with a 2-3 pre-league record.

Coach Julio Mercado felt the team's strengths were shortstop and pitcher Mike Hughs, pitcher and outfield Shan Treanor, catcher Bill Ballard, pitcher and 1st base Dietrich Legoretta.

"For the first time in quite a while the frosh/soph team had depth at pitcher," commented Mercado. "There were a couple of good sophomore pitchers and there are four promising freshmen."

Despite a low turnout, the boys varsity track team started the season with a win against West and East High.

According to coach Bill Moore, the outstanding team members were senior Larry Bayless, long distance runner, and senior Kenny Charles, high hurdler.

The only weakness was in the field events, but they were strong in all other events, commented coach Moore.

The highlights of the season were the meets against West and Bakersfield High. A particular standout performance was high hurdler Kenny Charles placing 2nd at the Lemoore invitational.

Girls' track had a good year, with key meets against South, West, and North.

Coach Rod McClintock had a "rewarding experience" watching the team mature and gain experience. As the season progressed the team began to see the benefits of hard work. The team's strength was the shorter running and jumping events, and the squad's biggest problem was lack of participants.

Most Valuable Person was Regina Roberts, who excelled in long jump and 440 yard dash. Team Captain was Chrystal Hammond.

Although the girls' tennis team started out slowly due to a consistently rainy season, according to coach Marty Lakin the players had a good attitude and were rarely down despite some losses.

The team had seven returning players and several beginners. With five seniors, two juniors, and a freshman starting at most matches, the team beat North early in the season.

Besides the win against North, a second key match was played against Highland. "The team played well against Highland, who is usually strong, and we came out with a close loss," said Lakin.

According to Lakin, the strongest players were senior Leslie Lampson and junior Ida Franco. There were also many promising freshman and sophomore beginners.

"I think the team was stronger than it has been in the past couple of years," said Lampson. "I think this is because we have eight players who were experienced in match situations."

Boys' tennis had a good season, except for a lot of delayed games due to the heavy rainfall.

Coach Daryl Richardson feels he had a dedicated team. He expressed his feelings about team dedication, relating back to their first game of the season, against Garces. "The team concentrated and played really hard to overcome Garces, said coach Richardson.

The team started off with strong doubles, Mark Mercer and Billy Smith, until Smith had back problems and had to quit the season. Thien Lee was Billy's replacement, and Thien and Mark built the strength back into their doubles.

The team's Most Outstanding players were Mark Mercer, Billy Smith, and Freshman addition Mark Allison, according to the coach.

Coach Richardson said he "sees a great future in tennis for Mark Allison; he is the team's strongest single player."

The varsity cheerleaders made history in quite a few areas. Not only was this the first squad to have four-year cheerleaders, but they were also the only squad to bring home a spirit stick, a sweepstake trophy and a trophy for their home routine from cheerleading summer camp at UC Davis.

"This year's varsity has been a group of truly dedicated cheerleaders" commented advisor Marilyn Wertz.

For fun times, the girls carried out the tradition of painting their graduation year on the water tank behind the gym and showed their appreciation of their advisor by toilet-papering her front lawn.

All of the varsity cheerleaders believed their advisor deserved much credit for their performances.

The girls traveled to U.C. Davis for a summer cheerleading camp instructed by National Cheerleading Association cheerleaders. During July 20-23, they were taught exercises, chants, cheers, routines and the importance of squad unity. For many of the girls, camp was a first time experience.

The squad participated in many behind-the-scene activities. Selling calenders, candy bars, roses, Homecoming corsages and bake sales rounded out their fund-raisers.

Aurora, the FHS yearbook, was led by editors Annette Otten and Leslie Lampson, whose responsibility was to take charge and help other staffers with their layouts, and advisor Bob MacGuire, who has advised the Aurora since 1974.

The yearbook staff had five major deadlines to meet before completing the final production. Friday afternoon deadlines would find 17 girls and an advisor completing layouts and gobbling down Caesar sandwiches in E-7 long into the afternoon.

Walsworth Publishing Company, in Missouri, was where the final product was completed and sent to Foothill in time for the Yearbook Signing Party June 6th.

This was the third year for Editor Annette Otten, the second year for Editor Leslie Lampson and the 9th Aurora for advisor Bob MacGuire. (D. Hooper photo)

Creating a cross-culture awareness between all ethnic groups is one goal of the Afro-American Association. AAA is made up of Blacks who care and want to understand more about their heritage.

AAA scheduled many activities, such as trips to Bakersfield College, Cal State Bakersfield, Winchester Mystery House, and Marriots' Great America. Black History Week, an annual project of AAA, included a school assembly, which told of the contribution of Black leaders.

AAA sponsored a dance and had two candy and bake sales to raise money for their club.

Officers were President Carla Brown, Vice President Marie Stancil, Secretary Rena Peterson and Sergeant of Arms Keith Jackson.

Objectivity is the goal of all journalists, and the staffers of the Epic of Foothill High are no exception.

It's not always easy to remain objective, particularly when writing about such controversial subjects as Foothill's Detention program, but staffer Donna Taylor's ability to do just that netted her a second place award at the San Joaquin Valley Scholastic Press Association competion held at Fresno State University in March.

Led by Editor Jeff Mayo and advisor Bob McGuire, the Epic captured a "Superior" rating from the SJVSPA for the 9th consecutive year.

Mayo, Taylor, and freshman Mike Matheny had another exercise in objectivity when they investigated the issue of Prayer in School for the February 25 edition.

Sports writer Darren Vogel and the Entire Epic staff competed at the Bakersfield College journalism Conference April 12.

The Epic is printed by the LAMONT REPORTED.

Don St. Clair is proud to be associated with Foothill. "I wouldn't trade our students at Foothill for any other student body," said the assistant principal.

St. Clair has been at Foothill for the past 18 years, the last three holding the title of Assistant Principal in Charge of Administration. His years at Foothill have, for the most part, been good, but he did say that "the last three years at Foothill have been the best."

St. Clair is in charge of the upkeep and maintenance of the school, all school transportation, cafeteria services, all testing, school supplies, and budget. Basically, he makes sure that the school runs smoothly so that teachers are able to teach and students are able to learn.

When asked if he thought students take many of these things for granted, he felt that "students at Foothill appreciate the administration." "I, myself, feel appreciated." He also said that, "Being visible and involved helps."

Most teachers don't have half as interesting career as science and math teacher Joe Fontaine. Fontaine went on sabbatical two years ago to accept the presidency of the Sierra Club, a national conservational group.

Fontaine spent much time traveling while with the group. He testified at Congressional hearings about issues important to the Sierra Club. A goal of the club was to make sure that the best ecological laws were passed. One law passed while Fontaine was in office was the Alaska Lands Act. The government set aside over 100,000,000 acres for National parks and wildlife preserves in our 49th state. Fontaine met with California senator Cranston and many other senators and congressmen in Washington.

The science teacher was surprised at how strongly the public supports the group. "It's exciting to see the Sierra Club grow so fast," Fontaine said, "and it's also exciting making speeches, being on television and talking to reporters."

It takes talent and a lot of patience to be a karate instructor, and photo instructor Charles Garcia has these qualities. He is now a 3rd degree black belt and has been teaching for eight years. He teaches defensive arts and weapons and is a member of the Christian Black Belt Association. Garcia has made several films on self-defense for the Kern County Library system and has appeared in the movie, "Bamboo Gods and Iron Men." When asked why he started he replied; "Having three uncles in Karate, one in Judo, and one in Kung Fu, I naturally became interested."

Teachers exist with talent beyond that of teaching. One of these Foothill teachers is Darrell Bernard. He and three friends called "The Outlaws" bicycle race throughout the summer.

These bicycle races, called Century rides, consist of riding a bike 100 miles across all types of land.

Bernard has trained for the last five years by riding an average of 30 miles each day. These "training rides" take him many places. Some of the more popular destinations are to Tehachapi, Walker Basin, Glenville and McFarland. Bernard explained that "Bakersfield is located in a good place because one way is the mountains and the other way is the valley, so the places you want to ride aren't that far."

Stitchery artist Lynda Brown surrounds herself with handmade quilted and stitchery items, such as pillows, clothes and wall hangings.

Lynda Brown, a member of the Foothill High School staff, not only works in the Attendance Office, but owns her own business called Double Trouble. Double Trouble specializes in making work boards, used to make quilts, stitchery, and needlepoint, an art mastered by Brown.

Brown began doing stitchery while very young. In doing so, she followed in the footsteps of her ancesters.

Her daughter, Cheryl Brown Peterman, is also talented in the area of needlecraft. At the age of 13, she published an illustrated book for children on stitchery.

The search for domestic energy.

A big job that leads to thousands more.

Chevron is expanding its energy exploration and production activities into new areas all over the country. New domestic energy helps support employment and gives our economy a boost. And a healthy economy is something everyone can appreciate—from shopkeepers to shipping clerks, from teachers to truckdrivers.

It's happening all across America. Chevron's search for domestic energy touches the lives—and livelihoods—of millions of Americans.
